WHEELING.

Mrs. Frances Robinson, widow of the late Charles C. Robinson, who died suddenly in the city, about a month ago, was here yesterday, attending to the matter of having the body exhumed and removed to a lot purchased for the purpose in Riverview Cemetery. Other funeral bills also were paid by Mrs. Robinson on the occasion of her visit. It seems she did not learn of his death until after the body was buried in the Potter's field in Riverview Cemetery. While here, Mrs. Robinson made an effort to locate the money her husband is supposed to have had at the time of his death, but was unable to find any trace of it.—Wheeling Register.

In addition, Mr. George Cannon assisted those in the exhuming and removal, and was also assigned to take charge of the grave, while the widow departed for her former home in Youngstown, O. The death of our beloved churchman was the first since the church was founded about four years ago. The guild has been planning to make a fund to set some mark upon his grave or to place some memorial in the worshipping place. It can't be acted upon just now, while we are doing our best to wipe the debt out.

We were still pleased to observe that the Parish Record, of St. Matthew's Church, had, some time ago, a good picture of Old Zane Mansion which stood at the head of what is now Main Street hill. It was somewhat interesting in connection with the ancestry of Mr. and Mrs. Zane, great supporters of our St. Elizabeth's Church for the Deaf. Fifteen years have wrought great changes in that locality. That long ago, the corner of Main Eleventh Streets, was a high mound, crowned with a stone dwelling known far and wide as the Zane Mansion. There Colonel Zane had lived and the gentry the country round could tell of the brilliant scenes of social festivities of which that house was the centre. There the eminent Marquis de la Fayette had been sumptuously entertained upon his return to America, and the time can be recalled when a band of Indian braves, en route to Washington, danced their war dance on the green surrounding the house. Many were the grand fetes and parties given in this vicinity, but none surpassed the elegance and splendor of those at which the Zane Mansion, the harp and piano furnished music for the flying fleet. Once every year, with recurring regularity, was thrown open for a grand ball. There General Harrison was entertained in 1841, when en route to Washington to be inaugurated President of the United States. In the early spring of that year, the wedding of Miss Elizabeth Zane, namesake and direct relation of the heroine of Fort Henry and William Pitts from Maryland took place there, and was one of the most brilliant society events known to the early history of Wheeling. Rev. William Armstrong, of St. Matthew's Church, which then occupied the building now used by the Baptists, on the corner of Twelfth and Byron Streets, was the officiating minister. Numsen, great confectioner, of this city, who had more than a local reputation, was the chef and prepared a most elaborate refreshment table. It was in the form of three sides of a hollow square and handsomely decorated and ornamented. In the centre stood a Grecian temple, of exquisite workmanship, wrought of pure sugar. End pieces matched and the intervening space was filled with the dainties, the favorite of the time. And tradition says that when the guests had eaten all they might, the remainder of the feast was carried home by them.

Miss Emma Bartlett and mother, of Mannington, on the 28th ult., called on Mrs. J. C. Bremer, having spent the day before with their relatives in Bellaire, O. Emma will attend N. A. D. Convention, at Colorado Springs. No doubt she will find it another glorious "Wheeling."

Mrs. P. Platt Zane has started a new fund of St. Elizabeth's Church, ten dollars being at hand.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Weiner and Mr. Julius Andre, on a recent excursion to Pittsburg, Pa., incidentally saw a big fire on Diamond Street and also had the company of several mutes, including Michael Kornblum, who is well known here.

The news of the gentry of twins—boy and girl—to Mr. and Mrs. William C. Seamon, who moved to the latter's home in Barnesville, O., several weeks ago, to eke out a farm, owing to the shut down of Labelle Tin Mill, was received here last week with surprise, but we congratulate them.

Mr. George Kihm, first baseman with Grand Rapids Club of Central League, on the 24th, 25th, 26th and 27th ult., played ball with our own. The former won two games to his credit.

Miss Ivy Wiederbusch and her brother, Muriel and Clarence Nesbit, return here this week from the Romney School for vacation.

A brilliant complimentary party on Saturday night, June 11th, was tendered at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Littleton, cor. 26th and South Belmont Streets, Bellaire, O., upon Miss Daisy May Littleton, an estimable lady, who leaves, on June 18th, for Leavenworth, Kansas, to be united in wedlock with Mr. William Robert Alexander. The officiating minister will perhaps be Rev. Mr. Koehler, formerly of All Souls' Church for the Deaf, Philadelphia, Pa., but now of Trans-Mississippi District. The bridegroom will make their permanent home in Leavenworth, where the groom holds a lucrative position in M. A. Kelly Broom Co. Factory, having already secured it several months ago upon his leave from Wheeling. They were educated at Ohio School for Deaf, graduating not long ago with honor. The bridegroom was also once one of the early products of Missouri and Kansas Schools for Deaf for some time. While attending the Ohio School, he met Daisy Littleton and a mutual admiration soon ripened into love.

Most of the occasion was spent with forfeit games and pleasant hearty conversational compliments upon the hostess' coming wedding. A very tempting luncheon, prepared by Mrs. Corbett and Mrs. J. C. Bremer and Misses Christiana Jepson and Anderson, was enjoyably partaken of by all these named: Mr. and Mrs. William F. Robb, Mr. Samuel W. Corbett and children, Miss Rhoda Earline, Mrs. Parmelia Green, Mrs. Ella Keener, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Weiner, Misses Ida and Alice Millard, Ada Ryan, Grace Littleton (Daisy's Sister), Mrs. Anna Tyles; Messrs. Hebert Stoehr, Lawrence Knuth, Elmer Conway, James Boyd, David Lebow, Charles Blackburn, Marion Giffen, John Bremer and Peter Gilooley. After the luncheon, they repaired into the kitchen room and collected around the table, on which a load of wedding presents was piled. Daisy took one after one up and unwrapped what gifts and names of givers on notes being found therein as follows: Corbett, card receiver; Keener, hair receiver; Bremer, bad-spread; Tyles, linen handkerchief; Knuth, doily; Robb, six dessert saucers; Anderson, fancy stockings; Blackburn, two card receivers; Green, salt and pepper shakers; Catherine Corbett, picture-frame; Jepson, center-piece; Earline, two vases; Boyd, dresser scarf and center-piece; Ryan, hair receiver; Alice Millard, centerpiece; Ida Millard, hand-embroidered towel; Stoehr, pair of white gloves; Giffen, picture frame; Weiner, linen tablecloth. Returning into the parlor room, Miss Daisy Littleton made a neat little address about the coming marriage, and she responded by wishes for a happy long life in the wild woolly west. The closing hour was the scene of a sad parting and bidding farewell with long memories.

"Laugh, and the world laughs with you,
And it doesn't care at that,
What in the blooming blazes
It is you're laughing at."

BALTIMORE.

The School for the Colored Deaf, located just outside of this city, will close for the season on June 11th. Among the teachers who have resigned is Mr. William Cooper, Gallaudet, '09. Mr. Cooper has done good work as Lay-reader of Grace Episcopal Mission and president of the Men's Club, a "non-sectarian organization, and the members of these two bodies are sorry to know that he will not be with them next year. But the call of the wild and woolly west has come to William and there is no keeping him in the east. Where he will locate, if he locates anywhere at all, we do not know—but wherever he goes may blessings attend him.

Miss Willie Kilgore, Gallaudet, '08, another teacher in the school, goes to her home in Texas for a much-needed rest. She will return in the fall, however; the lure of the east being stronger than either the call of the west or the echo of the South.

Miss Bendelle, Gallaudet, Ex-'06, also employed at the School, will alternate between this city and Washington for the purpose, evidently, of testing the respective temperatures of the two places.

Rev. O. J. Whildin returned on May 31st, from a three weeks' trip through the South. Among the cities visited for the purpose of holding services for the Deaf were Atlanta, Talladega, Birmingham, Montgomery, Mobile, New Orleans, Baton Rouge, Jackson, Memphis, and Knoxville. Addresses to the pupils were made at the Schools in Talladega, Ala., Baton Rouge, La., and Knoxville, Tennessee. The trip throughout was a very pleasant one, large congregations were met with, the rectors of the numerous churches in which services for the deaf were held very generous and enthusiastic, the superintendents and teachers and pupils of the schools were very cordial and kind, and the numbers of old friends met on the way were legion. Among the latter were a number of Gallaudet College boys and girls of whom we hear little, but who are nevertheless plodding along gaily in their chosen tasks. Bell, Harper, Hofstator, and Robertson in Alabama; Sullivan, Tracy, Kestner, Miss Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Garret in Louisiana; Rowse, Cameron and Jones in Mississippi; and Chambers and Palmer in Tennessee; are friends whom it is a treat to meet. Of course there are others, equally pleasant and companionable people. Forsooth who wouldn't like sitting under a shaded tree and have a quiet chat with Mr. and Mrs. Weston Jenkins, Messrs. J. H., W. S., and S. Johnson, Mrs. Hofstator and her baby, Mr. and Mrs. Straus, Mr. and Mrs. Keep, Mr. Gaienne, Col. Robertson, Mr. Smoak, Mrs. Thorpe, Supt. and Mrs. Moses, Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy, and scores upon scores of others?

It is some since time Mr. Robert Mitchell Ziegler, of Philadelphia, gave his long-expected lecture before the members of Grace Deaf-Mute Guild in this city. We are sorry that it has thus far received no mention in the JOURNAL, as it was really an excellent lecture and was fully appreciated by the large audience that was present. Mr. Ziegler selected for his theme "The True William Penn," and in clear and graphic signs told of the struggles and final success of the great Quaker statesman and warrior. Previous to the time of listening to this lecture we had supposed in a hazy sort of way that the man whom we had seen standing on a pinnacle of Philadelphia's City Hall was a goody, peace loving, Quaker, and it was something of a shock to us to be told that he was quite as strenuous as Teddy Roosevelt, that he had been a convict, a lawyer, a politician, an author, a real estate dealer, a fighter and a trader. A year or so ago, we are told, Mr. J. A. McIlvaine, Gallaudet '95, who has a reputation like Mr. Ziegler in the lecture line, outraged his hearers by exposing the venerated Benjamin Franklin. "The True Benjamin Franklin," however, is a book which tells things that are true and wholesome although a bit out of the ordinary, William Penn and Benjamin Franklin, could they come to earth again, would probably give our friends Messrs. Ziegler and McIlvaine a hug a piece for repeating the true stories of their lives.

The Strawberry Festival of Grace Mission was held in the Parish House of Grace Church, on Thursday evening, May 26th. Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Bonhoff were in charge and were assisted by Misses Barry, McCreary, Rogers, Newman, Wiegand, and Olive Whildin, Mary Manger, and Katherine Stegler, hearing children. Mr. Wess had charge of the tickets and Mr. Boss dug up the ice-cream. It was a very pleasant and successful festival. The attendance was large, and the tables were handsomely decorated, and the good-cheer went the rounds like an inflection.

The beautiful sister of Miss Alberta Wiegand, Miss Maud, was married to Mr. George Lee Mattingly, on Wednesday evening, June 1st, in St. Peter's Episcopal Church, this city. It was a beautiful wedding and the reception which followed at the home of her father, Dr. William E. Wiegand, on Madison Avenue, was a brilliant affair. About five hundred guests were present. A

A FUNNY CANDIDATE.

I read some deaf-mute papers all over the United States which my friend showed them to me.

I saw in each of them how Rev. Cloud was a very busy gentleman to write to the deaf people in every Institution paper that he was the candidate for a secretary of the N. A. D. I understood that Rev. Cloud spent a great deal of postage to mail his letters to all the Institution Little Paper Families.

I know that Rev. Cloud was very busy to teach every day in the week except Saturday and Sunday, and preached and was a holy gentleman every Sunday and an editor of the Silent Success every Saturday. So I was stumped up a tree because I could not understand that he could get a time to write to all the papers in the United States to tell them he was a candidate.

My friend also told me that Rev. Cloud wrote letters to some of the deaf-mutes to tell them about his candidate for a secretary and ask them to ballot for him.

So I admired Rev. Cloud a great deal because he was a gentleman of the immense business who wanted to be a secretary of the N. A. D. I thought of a picture of the Pear's Soap which was a baby in a wash-bowl who said "He won't be happy until he gets it." Then I remembered that Rev. Cloud formerly used to be the candidate for a President at St. Louis, St. Paul and Norfolk, but he was a failure because President Veditz stole the fake ballots from him like Mr. Bryan when most of the people in the United States were Republican folks to vote for the wrong man like McKinley, Teddy and Taft.

I thought he was a funny gentleman because he did not want to be a President at Colorado Springs and put his conquering foot on President Veditz his head. Then I also thought he was a humble gentleman and was not ambitious any more like Julius Caesar which Mark Anthony three times offered him a President's crown to be a great king of the N. A. D.

I thought I would reward him at the Pike's Peak with a ballot, rather than Mr. Reggy, who is too busy to collect twenty thousand dollars to save the sign-language from destruction in the moving pictures.

I told my friend about it and he spelled to me now, go chase yourself, because he was a Gallaudet College education, better sit down and think about it and then think some more.

I was stumped up a tree again and sat down and thought very painfully. At last I saw the great light and decided to vote for Mr. Reggy again. I understood that Rev. Cloud did not want to be a second fiddle. If he supported Mr. Spear's plan, he would be a first fiddle secretary, and Mr. Hanson would be the second fiddle, because in Mr. Spear's plan the president is the figurehead on a ship and the secretary is the steam-engine, boiler, rudder, crew of the sailors and ship and captain and every thing expect the figurehead who will be President Hanson or President Axling.

Now I want to ask Rev. Cloud a few questions the same which I asked Mr. Spear last time. Why does Rev. Cloud get a megaphone on the housetop to tell the whole United States papers that he is the candidate for a secretary? Why is not the JOURNAL and Silent Success enough? Why is he very anxious to be a secretary on Mr. Spear's plan and not president on the old plan? Now put Mr. Spear's plan in Mr. Spear's dog kennel and answer me what you are going to do to elevate the deaf-mutes of the United States and make the N. A. D. like Halley's Comet, which is very famous and useful to scare the people?

If Mr. Spear's plan is thrown in the garbage can and you are elected the secretary what are you going to do? I want to know because if you tell me exactly what you will do I will vote for you if you are good and useful more than Mr. Reggy.

Now answer me, Rev. Cloud,

Respectfully
FOR THE PUBLIC GOOD.

Mr. Philip Eicholser, of Worcester, Mass., has brought a fine flat bottom rowboat to Lake Quinsigamond from his home and will use it all summer.

number of Miss Alberta's deaf friends were invited. They were Miss Sharp, of Gallaudet, Miss Waters, of Washington, Rev. and Mrs. Whildin, Misses Webster, Edelen, Newman, and Messrs. Henning and Bell.

Mr. H. T. Reamy is negotiating for the lease of a five-acre farm not far from the Western limits of the city. He proposes starting in the poultry business again. Mr. Reamy is an expert poultry raiser and fancier and will no doubt succeed in his undertaking.

The father of Mr. William Feldpusch passed away a short time ago. Rev. Mr. Whildin, together with Rev. Mr. Hyatt, of a local Methodist Church, conducted the funeral service. Mr. Feldpusch has still his venerable mother with him. Our sympathy goes out to him, and to his mother also, in their bereavement.

On account of pressure of much work, frequent absence from home and inability to give the needed attention to the work, Rev. Mr. Whildin, with the approval of Mr. Oscar Regensburg, has requested Mr. George Faupel to act as State Treasurer of the Moving Picture Fund. Mr. Faupel has accepted. We hope that the showing to be made by Maryland will be worthy of her illustrious name.

The question now going the rounds of many circles in many cities—who shall be selected to stand before the moving picture machine and have themselves immortalized? Without a dissenting voice the selection of Dr. E. M. Gallaudet has been approved. But who are the others, and who is to do the selecting? As we understand it, and as President Veditz himself declared in one of his newspaper articles, the movement, inaugurated by Mr. Oscar Regensburg, is not connected with the National Association of the Deaf, although circumstances have placed it under the auspices of a member of the Association for the time being. We suppose Mr. Regensburg should be allowed to select the subject by reason of his leadership and labors, but perhaps the State treasurers in their capacity of associates to him will also want a say. Anyway, and whoever does take the great responsibility of selecting, we trust that good judgment and proper foresight will be exercised. Partiality to any one section of the country, favoritism towards any one set of men, or prejudice against any method of instruction should be avoided. We would advocate the selection of great men and great themes and as far as possible avoid the commonplace and petty. For great men and great themes, how would Dr. Gallaudet and his "Let your light shine" sermon do? What about Veditz and his "swan song"? What about Cloud and his great speech on "The un-American, unrepresentative Committee"? What about Tilden and his speech on "Individualism"? What about Zeno and his "Caricatures"? What about Dougherty and his strictures on "Graft"? What about Hodgson and his poem on "Thomas Gallaudet"? What about Draper and his poem on "In the Halls of Gallaudet"? What about Cronter and his "Pure Oralism"? What about the numerous classes of young children in our schools who have been trained to render, in beautiful signs, "Lead, Kindly Light," "Nearer, my God, to Thee," and "Rock of Ages"? What about the numerous theatrical exhibitions given in our schools every year? Surely, the list to select from is a long one, so long that there is no need to cause dissatisfaction in any quarter. We wish Mr. Regensburg success in his great undertaking.

CICILUS CALVERT.

On June 6th, at Mosbacher Cottage on Meredith Avenue, Arverne, L. I., Edwin S. Mosbacher's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry May, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. There was a fine dinner for the relatives, also music, and they all had a jolly good time. They received many fine gifts and a great many beautiful flowers and plants. The happy couple received the good wishes of their friends in the evening, and wound up the evening with songs and dancing, and everybody enjoyed the affair immensely.

Nineteenth Meeting of the American Instructors of the Deaf.

TO BE HELD IN DELAVAN, WISCONSIN, IN 1911

June 7, 1910

To the Educated Deaf of the United States and Canada:

Bulletin No. 1 has been addressed to Superintendents, Principals and teachers announcing the next meeting of the Convention of American Instructors of the Deaf, which is to be held in the Wisconsin School for the Deaf, at Delavan, Wisconsin, in the summer of 1911, and asking for suggestions in the preparation of programs for Normal, Oral, Kindergarten, Industrial, Art, Auricular and Miscellaneous Sections.

I am now addressing Bulletin No. 2 to you (the educated deaf of the United States and Canada) feeling that your appreciation of what these officers and teachers have done for you prompts your interest in this meeting because of what it means to your uneducated deaf friends.

Our profession appreciates the splendid success you have made as a class and recognizes yours right to an opinion and your ability to judge of methods and of men. We would be glad, therefore, for any suggestions your experience might dictate as to topics that ought to be discussed and as to men who are able to discuss them.

I am profoundly impressed that this Convention can be made of supreme importance to the uneducated deaf children and bring to them blessings of untold value if we are aroused to the proper sense of responsibility.

Having been put, by the Convention, "in general charge of the program," I am asking you for aid and comfort in the difficult undertaking.

As I have not the names and addresses of many of you, I am handing this to the press as an "Open Letter," with the hope that it may catch your eye and enlist your interest and be the means of bringing, within the next thirty days, many helpful suggestions.

Thanking you in advance, I am,
Cordially and sincerely yours,
J. R. DOBYS,
Vice-President.

MR. GRAY DECLINES.

Ed. JOURNAL.—I see that my friend, Mrs. Nelson, has proposed my name as candidate for Treasurer of the N. A. D. While thanking Mrs. Nelson for the honor done me, I must beg to decline, as I do not desire office, and hope that those of my friends who may have felt like supporting me will cast their votes for Mr. J. S. Long. He is a better man for the place than I, and the members of the N. A. D. will make no mistake if they elect him for another term.

It has come to my knowledge that my name is being used to draw votes for Rev. Mr. Cloud for Secretary. Now I wish it distinctly understood that, though I second Mr. Cloud's nomination, I am personally in favor of Mr. O. H. Regensburg, and have been since he announced his candidacy. It would be hard to find a man better fitted for the post than Mr. Regensburg, or one who will bring to the discharge of the duties of the office as much enthusiasm and devotion to the interests of the Association. By all means, let us have Mr. Regensburg for Secretary.

F. R. GRAY.

In recent years great advances have been made in the art of printing, not only in color effects but in artistic typography and improved methods of illustration. The railroads are the quickest to take advantage of the newest and the most up-to-date processes in artistic printing. A particularly fine example of the highest class of illustrated pamphlet work is "A Glimpse of Utah," just issued by the Passenger Department of the Denver and Rio Grande Railroad. The text is by the brilliant writer, Judge E. F. Colborn, of Salt Lake City, and the excellent illustrations picture the many unique features of that interesting State, Utah.

COLORADO SPRINGS, June 11, 1910.

An Interesting Letter from an Interesting Delegate.

Mr. Veditz has received the following letter from a prospective foreign delegate to the Colorado Springs Congress, and which he takes pleasure in publishing, as doing so seem to involve no breach of confidence.

In feature Mr. Shatton strongly resembles Mr. Rudolph Janik. The costume of the Zaptieh is highly picturesque, and should Mr. Shatton appear in Wall Street thus attired there is certain to be a commotion in the "Street." Mr. Shatton's American friend, who imposed the terms of the wager should be on hand to give the explanation required by the occasion:

YALLI KIOSK
THE POINT
SMYRNA, ASIATIC TURKEY
May 16, 1910.

GENTLEMAN:—Being a deaf-mute, born in this Turkish Country and educated in England, and having a missionary kind of keen spirit, prompting me to interest myself in the advancement and education of the human family of our poor imperfect world. I beg to congratulate you warmly for having transforming your 1910 Deaf Convention into the World's Congress of the Deaf, and I assure obviously it will bear the good fruit for the uplifting of the universal deaf.

If Turkey has not promised to send a representative to your Congress, I would be most glad to do such small part, and make out and read a report on the Deaf in Turkey if you deem it good. As I will most probably go to your renowned country this summer, but in a very absurd way. Well, now I must explicate the latter to render confidence to you as follows:

Just before the last election of the President of your honorable country, I met an American friend in London just before departing for home and he suddenly arranged a bet, firstly choosing Mr. Taft, and I for Mr. Bryan, but the condition of the wager we made were concealed and sealed until after the election. I thought that the conditions he devised were so light as same as the ones I did, but after Mr. Taft became the President, consequently I lost and opened the sealed papers of conditions, finding out. They were very severe for a trifle of such wager, contrary to my expectations. They mercilessly conditioned that I have to go to New York, dressed as a Zaptieh, and appear in Wall Street, but I could not carry it out immediately, nevertheless the wager gave me a grace to do it any time before another president election commences, for that reason contract work keeps me here since, in about one month I will be free to go and accomplish the absurd task, however I feel most confident I will have an opportunity of attending your Congress. Hoping that the costume I will wear will not make any unpleasantness. The wager adds that I must not pay any expenses in

United States, but only beg. That is the most difficult of all conditions, as I don't know how to beg as a gentleman. Hoping I will again ask my wagerer to cancel it in order to render easiness for my presence at your Congress.

I say by the word of God that my name and character are nothing that you fear at all, in any case I beg to ask you respectfully to refer the United States American and British Consuls here if you wish to know it beforehand. I also will take with me the credentials from them.

I should be grateful if you can provide me with some letter of introduction in New York.

Many apologies for this unavoidable trouble and great pleasure with hopes to make your acquaintance.

I am, dear sir,
Yours very truly,
WM. V. SHATTON.

P. S. I inclose my portrait and an illustration of the Zaptieh in order to enable you to be aware of my personal face.

MOVING PICTURE FUND.

Bulletin No. 3.

TO THE AMERICAN DEAF:—Hurrah! We are fast approaching the two thousand mark! By October first, I am willing to wager, we will have anywhere between three and five thousand dollars. This is merely a conservative estimate. I want to be the first to congratulate you at your success. The enthusiasm seems to be general. Out in Colorado, the State Treasurer writes the State will stand good for six hundred dollars. It has already sent in about eighty dollars, with much more in the hands of its Treasurer. Pennsylvania made its first contribution, sending in thirty dollars, and Treasurer Gray writes that although Home interests there make his path hard, he expects to make it four hundred dollars before long. Oklahoma sent in a check for one hundred dollars, but has one hundred and seventy-three dollars more lying in a State bank drawing four per cent interest, and when due will be forwarded to me. Miss Baggerman says that every one from Superintendent Stewart down is helping her, and hopes to make the total from her State seven hundred dollars. The School is planning to buy a Moving Picture Projecting Machine. From New Jersey Treasurer Porter reports thirty-one dollars, of which sum twenty dollars was donated outright by the State Association. Texas also reports thirty-one dollars. North Dakota has taken the cue from Oklahoma and has evidently some surprise for us. Tennessee first seemed a hopeless State, but now its interest has been aroused and Treasurer Palmer writes the State will surely make good, but wants time. He says that when he does anything, he wants to do it right. "The deaf will contribute liberally anyway from fifty cents to five dollars instead of a few dimes. They have been holding back for information on the subject," he writes. Louisiana reports something like one hundred and fifty dollars and this proves it is no quitter. We take off our hats to North Carolina. This was what we thought was another "hopeless case." It has entered a name upon the Roll of Honor. The volunteer is John L. Deloatch, of Roanoke Rapids, I suspect there are others who will shortly send in their names or have done so already through Editor Hodgson. Treasurer Pach, of New York, writes that he has a few who are entitled to be placed on the Honor list, but for some reason the donors prefer to remain incognito. From Iowa we hear that Matt McCook, the enterprising newspaper man, is out to win a free trip offer to Colorado Springs. He usually makes good. Lee Palmer, another Iowan, but residing in California, also another newspaper man, has urged his father who resides on the old homestead, to try for a similar prize. I believe the latter gentleman is a hearing man. Mrs. Ward, of Los Angeles, undoubtedly leads for individual collections in the race for a prize. She has collected about sixty dollars.

Below is given a statement of money turned over to me. The rest of the money is still in the hands of the State Treasurers, and will be forwarded to me in due time. Money in my hands is drawing interest at the rate of four per cent from a national bank.

A few further changes have been made in the list of State Treasurers, due to resignations on account of other work, or for other causes: For Mississippi, Percy B. Jones, Corinth, with E. M. Rowse, assistant. For Georgia, Percy W. Ligon, 65 1/2 N. Broad Street, Atlanta. For Maryland, George Faupel, School for the Deaf, Frederick.

You will all rejoice to learn that Dr. E. M. Gallaudet has at last been won over and upon his return from an European trip, will pose before the Moving Picture Camera. Until now, Dr. Gallaudet repeatedly declined. President Veditz's efforts to interest him proved unavailing, as also Dr. Percival Hall, Dr. Gallaudet's successor, who was appealed to use his influence. In desperation, I gave the Grand Old Man to understand that I felt like I was collecting money on false pretense, since I have been using his name and the contributors were banking their hopes upon seeing a film reproducing a lecture of his. At the same time, I appointed a Committee, consisting of Drs. Hotchkiss and Draper and Mr. Roy J. Stewart, the District Treasurer, to call upon him and use their influence. This had desired effect and so we won.

NEW YORK.

News items for this column, should be sent direct to the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL, Station M, New York.

A few words of information in a letter or on a postal card is sufficient. We will do the rest.

In spite of the inclement weather, the Strawberry Festival and Games held at the Deaf Mutes' Union League, last Saturday evening, was the most successful affair that has been held this season, in every way. Over a hundred persons filled the rooms and eagerly joined in the games for all, of which costly free prizes were offered, with the exception of a Durham Duplex Safety Razor, which was chanced off and won by Mr. Emil Basch. The holders of the lucky numbers on admission tickets were: Miss Margaret Schaeffer, a handsome silk umbrella; Mr. Harry C. Dickerson, a pair of 14-karat gold cuff links. In an amusing game of chuck-a-luck, Mrs. H. C. Dickerson was awarded a leather autograph album and Mr. Seymour Gomprecht a pocket flashlight. At roping the clown, Mrs. S. Bramson won a box of stationery, and Mr. S. Weinberg a pocket knife.

Of course there was the inevitable ice-cream, cakes, and strawberries, followed by dancing, witty stories, tricks and all sorts of fun galore. This festival spirit of merriment and good cheer reigned until the wee small hours of the morning, in fact some were anxious to stay until breakfast time if they could.

The League of Elect Surds held their regular monthly business meeting on Saturday, the 11th, more than a quorum being present. The hat rack was a study, for not a straw hat was on it, all being black derbies and a number of spring overcoats; yet it was almost the middle of June when brand new straws and shirt-waists should predominate. Bros. Hodgson, Fox, Pach, Nuboer, Heyman and Kohlman were elected delegates to the N. A. D. Convention at Colorado Springs. The picnic committee presented a very encouraging report as to prospects for a grand success of the affair, on Saturday, August 6th, at Ulmer Park. Novel games will be introduced and better prizes than ever before will be presented, but the crowning feature is to be a baseball game, that will be hotly contested by two opposing strong mines of deaf-mutes of local repute. But maybe you will like best the social part in the evening, meeting your old friends, and perhaps tripping the light fantastic.

Father McCarthy was greeted by large attendance at St. Francis Xavier's last Sunday. His sermon dealt with the Gospel of the day, preceded by notices connected with his work among the deaf. Among the visitors from out of town was Miss Elizabeth Swartz, of Carbondale, Pa. On request of Father McCarthy, Miss Swartz gave an interesting and graphic account of the recent Mission given by Rev. Father Galvin, in Scranton, Pa.

It was appreciated by all present, including Father McCarthy, who adopts this as one the means to better familiarize himself with the sign language. Benediction followed the sermon, after which the Xavier Ephpheta Society convened, transacting important business. An item dealt with this year's celebration of Ephpheta Sunday, which falls on July 31. Excepting for that date, services for the deaf will be discontinued at St. Francis Xavier's for the Summer.

Next Sunday will mark the close for the Summer of Father McCarthy's Brooklyn visits. The occasion will be fittingly celebrated. President Fogarty announces an excellent programme, to be followed by a social session. He invites all to attend, and hints it will afford an opportunity to become better acquainted with the pastor of New York's Catholic deaf.

At Ulmer Park next Saturday, June 25th, the Hollywood Fraternity of Deaf-Mutes makes its initial bow to the public in the matter of having a summer outing. In the past, affairs given by the Fraternity have always turned out splendid successes, and this one will be but another repetition. Ulmer Park needs no description, it being in reality the "preeminently popular playground of the New York deaf."

The principal athletic event will be the one-mile relay race with a silver cup for the trophy. Next come the 100 and 440-yard dashes, and a three-mile run. The large covered pavilion and fine floor affords plenty of room for dancing, which will commence about eight o'clock to the music of Prof. Jockey's orchestra.

The Committee of the Hebrew Ladies Aid Society beg to announce that the family outing will take place in Pelham Bay Park, on Sunday, June 26th. Should the weather prove inclement, the event will go over to the following Sunday, July 3d. Take subway car to 177th Street (180th St. Bronx Park Express), then a few minutes' walk to West Farms station and ride to Baychester (five cents). The committee will be stationed at various points to direct visitors to the park. The outing begins at 9:30 o'clock in the morning. Free admission to the grounds. It would be advisable to bring along lunches, though there are hotel accommodations near by. Various events will be run off for handsome prizes. Bring along your children and hearing friends. Christians and Hebrews are equally welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. T. I. Lounsbury visited Mr. Isaac Golland at the River Crest Sanitarium, Astoria, last Sunday, and found him in better physical condition than at any time during the six years he has been there. Indeed he looked so fine and has a diffuse knowledge of worldly affairs, that it was a pleasure to spend an hour with him and to find him logical in his judgment of matters political and otherwise. His memory is keen, as demonstrated when he reeled off name after name of teachers and schoolmates of thirty or so years ago, and he was able to tell of the whereabouts of many that the visitors had lost trace of—he evidently reads the JOURNAL thoroughly. He cannot, however, shake off his frequent reference to Lincoln, Webster, etc. where they do not fit in with the topic. Mr. Golland would like to have his friends call on him. The grounds are open to visitors. The best way to go is to take a Steinway Avenue car marked "North Beach" from the Manhattan or other end of Queensboro Bridge, and ride to Wolcott Avenue (a trifle over twenty minutes' ride), and then walk west three blocks. Or take a North Beach car after crossing the ferry from 92d Street to Astoria.

Capt. Dan Barker, who is looking after the runners and sprinters of the Xavier Deaf-Mute Club, has expectations the Cherry X colors will be well up in the finishes at the different outings of the deaf hereabouts this summer. The stable is quite a promising one from an athletic point of view, being made up by Barker, Wm. Hanson, Joseph and John Schmidt, Joe O'Donnell, Jere Rudolph, Eugene Pons, Julius Kleckers, J. Harriman, Steve Dundon, Wm. McLaughlin, Harry Feeney, Val. Goetz, Andrew Mattes, and several others, who owing to illness may not be able to get in trim for the opening next Saturday at the Hollywood games. Barker will have full charge of the team, and an able assistant in President Hugo Schmidt. He surmises his men will make a good showing, but is sensible enough not to claim a clean sweep.

At eight o'clock, P.M., on Wednesday, June 15th, in St. Ann's Church for Deaf-Mutes, Miss Ethel L. Fieder was married to Mr. Frederick H. Koehler by the Rev. Dr. Chamberlain. Both were pupils of the Lexington Avenue School and are members of St. Ann's Church. Dr. Chamberlain read the service both in spoken and sign-language. Only relatives and intimate friends of the two families were present. The bride's brother gave her in marriage and a lady cousin attended her. A brother of the groom was best man. The ceremony was followed by an informal reception in the Guild-Room.

At the general meeting of the German Deaf-Mute Society, of Greater New York, held Saturday evening, June 11th, 1910, the following members were elected: President, Albert Kadgich; Vice-President, Joel Borger; Secretary, A. Ginzler; Treasurer, Jacob Landau; Sergeant-at-arms, Gustav Arvinsky. John Kumb, former president, was highly honored for his faithful service to the Society. At the close of the meeting, the Society journeyed to a local hotel, where a hearty repast was enjoyed.

Mr. John F. O'Brien was a visitor at the League of Elect Surds' rooms Saturday before last, and evinced a keen interest in the many photographs of olden times on the walls, in many of which he was shown twenty to twenty-five years younger. But Johnny is small, spry and wiry, and you would hardly believe he is nearing the half-century mark. His winsome smile has been patent with him ever since any of you first saw him.

Alex L. Pach will take to Colorado credentials as representative of the Brooklyn Frats, the New Jersey State Association, and one of the League Elect Surds's six. What a load, considering he may also take his cam ra along. But Alex is a hustler, and gets there whether with or without camera or credentials.

G. V. Warren has moved into his own house, which he bought at Princess-Bay, S. I. It is a nice one-fourth acre "Little Farm," and George and his wife are proud of their acquisition and enjoy living out in the open, within commuting distance of the city. It is good for their children. Mrs. G. V. Warren before her marriage was Miss Kortright.

Mr. A. H. Kohlmetz breaks up housekeeping the first of July, owing to his son, Albert, Jr., having secured a good position with an adding machine firm in Ridgefield, N. J. The senior will continue at Plunket's cigar factory, where he has been for ten years, and probably will board during the Summer in Brooklyn.

Dr. Fox will spend the major part of summer at Caldwell, N. J., where Mrs. Fox has been since the first of May. They had lived in the same wooden-frame house on west 157th Street for over twenty years, and it was with regret that they had to abandon it so it may be razed and a modern fire-proof structure take its place.

Religious services of the Hebrew Congregation of the Deaf, conducted every Friday evening, at the Temple Emanu-El, 43d Street and Fifth Avenue, have closed for the summer months beginning the 18th of this month. Services will be resumed next Fall, a week before the holy days.

Louis Lowenstein is one of the oldest members of the League of Elect Surds in point of age, yet he is one of the most industrious, and has worked steadily for so many years at same place without a vacation. Asked recently where he was going this summer, he replied "Same place, the shop."

Mrs. H. Pierce Kane will spend about the whole of the months of July and August in Boston. Mr. H. P. K. will run up once at least. He holds a good position as compositor on the Long Island Daily Star, and is already practising on a type-setting machine to become an adept.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Heyman propose making a change this summer, and instead of going on any prolonged sojourn, will rest on a farm for some time, most likely out in Pennsylvania, commencing with July, and then early in August go to Colorado for the convention.

Charles LeClercq does not expect any prolonged vacation this summer, but will just be able to go away for a couple of days now and then to various places, his first in mind being Long Beach for surf casting after the bigger ones of the sea family.

Anthony Capelli was ailing for a few days last week, from tonsillitis. The lance was brought into play and now he is breathing easier than he has in a number of years, and he wants to get Opper's dear old "Maud" behind him for not having attended to it before.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Miller have cut out Coney Island as a summer residence. They live near Crotona Park in the Bronx, and there is a superfluity of breathing room for the children there without Coney's exorbitant prices and frankfurter atmosphere.

Even those who live in the suburbs, think of going away for a few weeks during the summer. But E. Sonweine declares Grantwood, N. J., is as good as the mountains, and he knows, for he has lived there a number of years.

Mrs. John F. O'Brien has been under the doctor's care during the past week, and came within a close call of having to undergo a severe surgical operation. Happily she is now convalescent, and hopes are entertained of her speedy recovery.

Mr. David Costuma has about recovered from a serious case of pneumonia. His doctor has advised against his resuming work as night watchman at Plunket's cigar factory. He most likely will be given some day work there.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Pfeiffer and son, Walter, are now at their summer residence in Lake George. They went on June 2d, and for a week actually shivered in the cold, owing to the backward season.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Bothner have been taking frequent Sunday trips to various suburbs. We cannot tell why, but to tell the least, it is a fine thing to be your own landlord.

Mr. W. S. Kupfer, of the Lexington Avenue School, New York City, will spend the summer with Edwin S. Mosbacher at his home in Arverne. They will have good times together.

Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Soper recently had a visit from their grand children from Peekskill. Grandparents and yet seemingly so young, at least in looks and bodily vigor.

Mrs. Charles Bryan contemplates going to Colorado. She is seeking a lady companion, as her husband will not be able to get away from work during August.

Misses Ida and Ruby Abrams and folks took up their cottage at Arverne, J. I., for the Summer, Tuesday of this week.

NEW LIONS AT BOSTOCKS.

Two full grown African lions were added this week to the collection of wild beasts at the Bostock Arena, in Coney Island. The lions will be trained and exhibited by Heinrich Falkendorf, the fearless German animal trainer, whose act at Bostock's is one of the most thrilling exhibitions ever given. At present Falkendorf has five lions and four tigers, all which are considered the most dangerous beasts in captivity.

With the addition of new animals Captain Bonavita announces an exhibition of dancing, which will be given in the arena every afternoon and evening. The "Dance of the Lions" will be performed by a young woman who was selected from a number of expert dancers. Eight lions will be grouped around the arena while the dancer performs with all the grace and charm at her command.

At the Bostock show there are at present twenty-four acts, including sensations which have no equal, and farces which have no duplicate. Captain Bass and his athletic elephant continue as a big amusement for the children.

OHIO.

June 11, 1910.—There was a pleasing innovation in conducting the baccalaureate services for the 1910 class from what they were in times past. Moreover nearly all the teachers were present to lend dignity to the occasion. The class occupied chairs in the main aisle. The following programme was gone through:

1. Opening Prayer, Mr. Greener
2. A Song of Praise, 105th Psalm, 1 to 5, in spelling by Mr. A. H. Schory, in pantomime by M. McGregor.
3. A Song of Prayer 67th Psalm, in spelling, by Miss Lamson, in pantomime, by Miss Zell.
4. A Song of Worship, The King, 24th Psalm, by Mr. Zorn.
5. The Address—"Graduation" Mr. Jones
6. Twenty-third Psalm, Dr. Patterson.
7. Dextology—Dr. Patterson, leading with Miss Berry at the piano and Mr. Steward singing vocally.
8. Closing Prayer, Mr. Steward.

The school term for 1909-10 came to an end Tuesday morning, at 10:30 o'clock. The forenoon was occupied in handing out promotion cards to those entitled to them. Most of the pupils received them and were correspondingly happy, while those who "got left" showed it by their countenances, but promised to do better next year. About 150 pupils were sent to their homes Tuesday afternoon. Instead of going to the depot by omnibus as has been customary from time immemorial, the Oak Street cars were patronized and a teacher accompanied the group for each train, and at the station gate distributed the tickets, and saw them through the gates. Thereafter the responsibility of the children reaching their homes in safety was left with the Railroad employers. It was the same way with those sent home Wednesday. So far as heard, all reached their homes without any mishap. The next term opens September 21st.

Miss Rosa Marsh and Miss Louise Berry will spend their vacations in the east. The latter will take a summer course in the Northampton School. She being assistant to the principal in the Oral Department.

Regarding Ohio representation at the National Convention of the Deaf at Colorado Springs in August, it will possibly not come up in numbers as at the Norfolk Convention, where there were eight and not at all of them joined the Association. We have made some inquiry throughout the State as to persons attending the Colorado Convention with this result: Cincinnati one, Cleveland possibly one or two; Toledo, none; and we do not believe any from the smaller cities will go. Those going from Columbus are Misses Ethel Zell, Bessie McGregor, Cloa Lamson, Robert Edgar, probably Messrs. Robert McGregor and A. B. Greener.

Geo. P. Kihm, of Grand Rapids Baseball Team, stopped in the city last Thursday while on his way to Dayton from Zanesville and called on friends at the Institution and in the city. He was cordially received by his old ball friends, who told him they could use him right at home, as the Columbus Club has been losing heavily of late. He was looking very well, and likes his present berth very well, as he does not have to make so long "jumps" as he did with the Association.

Friday's State Journal contained the following: George P. Kihm, former first baseman for Columbus, was a welcome visitor last night at the State Journal office. He didn't say a word, but for half an hour, or until time for him to go to a train for Dayton, a lively exchange of news was carried on by the system at which the unfortunate deaf are so proficient.

Kihm made it plain that he's a Columbus loyalist and that he thinks the team will come on nicely. He's contented with his job at Grand Rapids, and says that all the ex-Senators on that club are prospering.

He wanted to know all about "Red" Gowdy, whom he knew as the score board boy here, and who is now headed via the Dallas Club for the New York Nationals. During his stay in Columbus yesterday Kihm met many friends, and was much pleased with the greetings extended him.

Edward Sehenek, a former pupil of our School, lives on Route 5, Chester, Indiana. He often works as a painter in the furniture factory of his home city. He will visit in Newcastle and Indianapolis, Ind., soon.

Anthony Kihm, formerly of Lexington, Ky., is now in Denver, Colorado, having moved there a year ago. His brother-in-law is the baker in the Insane Hospital at Pueblo. Anthony works in a bottling establishment.

Mr. Grover C. Burcham has come up from Huntington, West Virginia, and is employed to assist in house cleaning in the School. Also Joseph Turvey has come for the same reason.

Christopher Markley, who has been in the Home for nearly two years, was taken out by the infirmity directors last Friday, though every effort was made to have him remain. The directors agreed that because there were several deaf people in their infirmity, it was not fair to them that he should be given a better home.

Miss Jessie Galbreath, of the Home, left yesterday for a visit to her brother in Salem, O. There is to be a family reunion there to-day' Harry Leonard was taken to his sister's home, Cable, O., to-day for a few weeks' visit with her.

Mrs. Clara Rerick Munday, of Dayton, O., allowed her hubby to look after the baby last Sunday while she mingled with old-time friends at the school, being the guest of Miss Bessie Edgar. Other visitors here for the day were Miss Lillian Kunish, of Cleveland, Mrs. Fred Gillespie, of Groveport and Mr. Gobel, of Cleveland.

Dr. Patterson has cause to feel happy this week, for all of his children are gathered once more under the parental roof. To-day his oldest son, Robert G., is to be married to Miss Alma Wacker, a teacher, of the Columbus Public Schools. His daughter, Fannie, came home from Michigan, Tuesday, to be present at the wedding and spend the vacation, and Thursday, his son-in-law, Mr. Charles Bond with his wife and little son, came home from Brooklyn, N. Y. Mr. Bond will return to Brooklyn in a couple of weeks. Mrs. Bond and child will extend her stay for two months.

Clonian Society closed its year's meetings with reports of officers and a valedictory address from the president and a response thereto by a member, after which adjournment was made to B Centre, where a social was indulged in. The affair netted about seventeen dollars.

Miss Laura Cydrus Swanders, of Coruna, Ind., was in the city this week to attend the funeral of a hearing sister.

Mrs. Frank Stokes, of Springfield, has gone to Barnesville, O., to visit her parents.

June 18, 1910.—Messrs. James Smith and L. Miller were up from Dayton Sunday, and with Mr. J. B. Showalter visited the Home. They were greatly pleased to find the place in such good condition. They inspected the cottage which the Dayton Advance Society had agreed to pay half for the improvements recently made, and were so taken in with it that they decided to ask their society to pay for all the improvements, and have the cottage placed in the Society's care, which will undoubtedly be done at the next meeting. Mrs. Gussie Greener Sherman with the children left for her home in Newport, Ky., Monday, taking with her Miss Lucy Williams who will assist her in housework during vacation.

"Will your wife get her money?" is the heading of an article in the June Every Body's Magazine that should be carefully read by those connected with or having intentions of joining fraternal orders.

In addition to those mentioned in our last letter as intending to attend the Colorado Convention, there is one more to be added, Mr. Daniel Friedman, of Cleveland.

Albert Walters, who graduated this year and who since last fall took care of Governor Harmon's furnace and yard, will continue through the vacation to keep the yard in trim and do errands for the governor's family. By the way, Mrs. Harmon and daughter, who have been in Europe the past three months, returned Thursday, but in July go to Michigan to spend the heated term.

Those of the Alumni expecting to attend the reunion September 2d 4th, should remember the exposition in connection therewith, and bring something along to help make the affair a success. Premiums will be awarded as heretofore for the best article in any one class. In times past several members have secured premiums sufficient to pay all their expenses at the reunion.

Miss Clara Osborn, from Perry County, has come to Columbus and is working for Mrs. Schumacher on 17th Street.

The trustees of the School held their monthly meeting Wednesday. The teachers were given reappointments. The board decided to have the study rooms of the C, D, floors repainted during vacation, also it adopted a new form of diploma for graduates hereafter. The new certificate will contain besides the main building a view of Bushnell Hall and will be executed in a more artistic manner.

The piscatorial tribe of Buckeye Lake needs to be on its guard to night, lest it be taken in head and tail and made extinct by the irrepressible fishermen under the lead of Captain Jacob Vogelhund. He will conduct his followers to where the denizens of the water are thickest, or rather most numerous, for he knows the ins and outs of the place. Those accompanying him are Messrs. McGregor, Zorn, Leib, Beckert and Miller. They go this afternoon and make a night of it. There will be fish fries in several deaf families Monday.

William Mayer missed his dog from its haunts last Wednesday. Some one suggested to him that the dog catcher had gobbled it up and taken it to the pound. So he and two friends went there to investigate, and when he entered the dog pound, his dog at once recognized him and barked and danced for joy. At first William had thought he would let the dog stay there, but his good Teutonic heart melted at its hard pleadings, so he shelled out two great coins of the realm and set it free.

PHILADELPHIA.

News items for this column should be sent to James S. Reider, 1538 North Dover Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

The All Souls' people had their annual Strawberry Festival in the Guild Hall of the Church on Saturday evening, 4th of June. It was well attended, and an enjoyable evening was had. A surprise was sprung upon the people by giving them a stereopticon exhibition with the new apparatus which the Church has come into possession of through the efforts of the Parish Visitor, Mrs. M. J. Syle. She collected a total of $227 for the purpose. It is a Bausch and Lomb, Model C, Balopecticon with stand and rheostat. About forty views were shown to give the laity a trial, one of them being a view of the old Broad and Pine Streets Institution, which was justly applauded. A social time followed with the serving of refreshments. The committee was Mrs. E. E. Rigg, Miss Nellie Lynch and Mrs. C. O. Dantzer.

Mr. Harry G. Gunkel and Miss Emily R. Hamilton were married, by the Rev. C. O. Dantzer, at his residence, in Tioga, on Saturday afternoon, June 4th. The couple left the city on a short honeymoon. On their return they will go to house-keeping at No. 3053 North Ninth Street, which Mr. Gunkel has purchased. The couple are well-known here and have the best wishes of a host of friends for a happy wedded life.

A post card received by us briefly states that Mr. Otto Koenig, of this city, is on his way to Los Angeles, California, where a brother died through an accident.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Scott have moved into a beautiful house in West Collingswood, New Jersey, which they have purchased. The house has about ten rooms with modern conveniences, a large porch and lawn in front, and a good-sized back yard. It is one of a lot of new houses on the same street. Mr. and Mrs. Scott are graduates of the Pennsylvania Institution. We congratulate them on their good fortune and wish them continued prosperity.

At last the N. F. S. D. has invaded Pennsylvania. A license to do business in this State has been secured from the State authorities, and Mr. William L. Davis, of the Brooklyn Division, will roll up his sleeves and try to organize a division here.

On Saturday, June 4th, Miss Sarah McCready, who has served as Matron of the Home for Aged and Infirm Deaf, at Doylestown, since its doors were opened, resigned. She was faithful to her charge and there is general regret at her retirement.

Our friend, Mr. Barnitz, sent us the following clipping from the York (Pa.) Gazette, June 2, 1910:

George Blanchard, who says his home is Cleveland, Ohio, collected a lot of money in New York yesterday, claiming that he wanted to raise funds with which to take a course in a school for the deaf and dumb, but the police have an idea that he is not. In fact, they caught him napping and he gave evidence that he can hear pretty well, and hearing, he in all probability can speak, too.

His downfall came about after he was placed in the city lockup by Special Officer Herb B. Kain. City Physician Weaver, who had been called in to test the man, had Sergeant Horn try an experiment. The sergeant got a big hammer and going into an adjoining cell, banged it against an iron partition, with the result that Blanchard jumped up as if he had been shot. Evidently he had heard the blow.

Blanchard is about 23 years old and the police believe he had been following the Ringling circus. At any rate, he was soliciting money from citizens by means of a subscription heading setting forth that he wanted to take a course in a school for the deaf and dumb. Officer Kain came across him and suspecting that he was a fraud, took him to headquarters. By that time Blanchard had secured quite a sum of money.

The police detected the odor of liquor upon him, and in response to a question by Chief Bush Blanchard wrote that he had had three drinks of beer. Then the city physician was called in and the experiment by Sergeant Horn followed, with its astonishing results. Richard Kelly, of Goldsboro, was in an adjoining cell at the time and when the hammer fell Kelly exclaimed: "That's right! Blow her up. This is a short word to live, and we have but a short time to live, anyhow!"

Blanchard heard the sound, too, and he acted as if the end of the world had come.

Mr. William L. Davis is domiciled at Delanco, N. J., for the summer. He makes daily trips to the city to attend to his work.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis I. Ash, of Phoenixville, Pa., were among our Sunday visitors.

Washington Houston surprised his friends by his appearance at All Souls', on Sunday, May 29th, after a long absence. He has not yet entirely recovered from his injuries and is compelled to use a cane, when on the street. The trolley company has settled with him for $300. That sum is considered pretty fair without a court case. None of his injuries seem permanent and his weak ankle is expected to regain its strength.

The Beth Israel Association had its last meeting of the season, last Sunday afternoon. It will resume its meetings in the Fall. An excursion will be arranged during the summer.

Mrs. Geo. B. Wilson spent a week from May 30th, in Wilmington, Delaware, visiting her parents. She had her children along.

Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Weidner, of Birdsboro, Mr. John C. Etter, and Mr. Lewis Frederick were visitors at All Souls', on May 29th.

Something of a furor was created in the spacious hall of the Temple Beth Israel, on Saturday evening, 11th of June, when the spirit of Mr. Wm. G. Jones, of New York, seemed to have visited Philadelphia and declaimed the Seven Ages of Man. His countenance was as white as a spirit's, but in all other respects he appeared like the real living man, talking through the medium of the sign-language with his accustomed vim and humor and causing those who know him to smile strangely. It was all so good that we only missed the usual warm grip of the hand, which may be easily explained away by the fact that his spirit merely appeared on a screen through the operation of a moving-picture machine.

It was the occasion of a moving-picture entertainment, under the auspices of the Philadelphia Local Branch, for the benefit of the Home for Aged and Infirm Deaf at Doylestown. Rabbi Marvin Nathan had kindly placed the hall at the disposal of the Branch and the convenience was much valued and appreciated. Notwithstanding the threatening weather, over two hundred persons were thus drawn to the entertainment, including Rabbi Nathan and all the most prominent deaf in the city. Several sets of views of the Lubin Company were first shown, and then the military drill views of the pupils of the New York Institution and of Prof. Jones followed and undoubtedly created the greatest interest. Unfortunately, however, the military drill views were hardly visible, probably through some mistake of the operator, and we shall hope for another opportunity to enjoy them. Those of Prof. Jones were all right and a revelation. They were the first of the kind we had ever seen, and it was pleasingly surprising to see how naturally and clearly the sign-language can be photographed and showed on a screen. Both sets of views belong to the New York Institution and were loaned through the kindness of Principal Currier, who thus not only showed the Philadelphia deaf a great favor but incidentally helped to advertise the national movement for creating a moving-picture fund to perpetuate the sign-language, giving the movement a good impetus here. All in all, it was a novel and enjoyable entertainment, and profitable, too.

The papers announced the death, on June 7th, of Mr. Joseph Mekeal, former owner of the property which is now the Home for Blind, Aged and Infirm Deaf at Doylestown, and a most generous patron of the charity. He was in his 88th year. The name of Mekeal will always be remembered with the early history of the Home, not only as seller of the property, but more because it was only through his great beneficence that the valuable property was acquired for a small sum. The sympathy and interest which he felt in the charity from the first was kept up until life's end. We mourn the loss of so great and good a friend and shall hold him in lasting remembrance.

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Anne Blanche Coulter to Mr. Joseph G. Salmon, on Wednesday, the eighth of June. The bride is the daughter of Mr. Anna Price Coulter, formerly a teacher in the old Pennsylvania Institution, whom the older graduates remember well. She was a public school teacher until a few years ago when she resigned so as to be able to give more time to her invalid mother. And she is a most faithful and dutiful daughter. Like her mother she is an adept in the use of the sign-language and frequently entertains deaf company charmingly. The groom is a lawyer by profession. We extend our most hearty congratulations to the couple and wish them all the happiness and prosperity possible in this life.

We were pleased to receive the first annual report of The Silent Mission for the Deaf, Diocese of Connecticut, and to note the progress of the Rev. G. H. Afflon, with whom we worked and associated in Philadelphia for a time. Wish him continual prosperity.

The Clerc Literary Association held its June quarterly business meeting on Thursday evening, 9th inst.

Mr. and Mrs. Clement Parlman and Miss Helen Wink, of Reading, were visitors at the recent Strawberry Festival at All Souls'.

Jas. H. Butterbaugh, of Altoona, passed through here and stopped a while after visiting New York, Brooklyn and Trenton.

FANWOOD.

Tuesday, June 7, the members of the girls' society, the "L. B. W." went to Van Cortlandt Park on their annual picnic.

Accompanied by the lady teachers, who act as directors of the society and Miss Judge, also a director, they started off at one o'clock in high spirits.

It was an ideal day for an outing. Van Cortlandt Park was in all its glory after the rain of the previous night.

The old manor house was first visited. The house and its contents were of absorbing interest to the girls.

The curator made a special effort to entertain the crowd.

He unlocked doors and showed many articles of interest not seen by the general public.

The girls gazed with awe upon a letter written by George Washington, looked at a piece of his tent with reverence, but when they actually saw a piece of yellow silk cut from the wedding dress of Martha Washington, they were more than delighted.

The deaf-blind girls were allowed to go into the rooms and touch the many valuable articles within.

They "saw" the bed in which George Washington once slept and sat in a chair once used by him.

After spending some time in the manor house, the members strolled over to the lake to enjoy its cool breezes, or climbed the hills to view the landscape, or made a rush for the refreshment booths to regale themselves on ice cream, soda, candy, etc.

The mounted policeman on guard was more than anxious to have the crowd take in everything going, and escorted the girls to seats, where they had a fine view of a pony polo game played by Squadron A, presumably for the benefit of the "L. B. W."

At the proper time a bounteous lunch was quickly disposed of.

After this exertion, the girls rested a while and then returned leisurely to the Institution, all agreeing that the "L. B. W." outing of 1910 had been pleasurable as well as profitable and entertaining.

THE CLASS IVY.

The planting of the Class Ivy occurred after three o'clock on Friday afternoon, June 10th.

Previous to the march of the Graduating Class, all assembled in Principal Currier's office. He made them an address replete with words of advice and encouragement, and then shook hands with every member.

Principal Currier made an impressive address to the graduating class, after which Miss Ethel M. Howe delivered the Ivy Oration.

IVY ORATION

Dear Principal, Ladies and Gentlemen, Fellow Classmates:—The class of 1910 has assembled here for a time-honored observance. We adopt our class ivy already so beautifully clinging close to the school building in which we have passed so many happy years. The time has come for us to bid good-bye to these pleasant scenes. We have been made 'ready' to do our part in the world's work. Since there is a special providence in the fall of a sparrow, we can hope that Providence will lead us safely in our lives. We have learned much here. We do not leave unprepared, for surely Fanwood has given us all it can to make our careers successful.

The Bible tells us: "Make yourself perfect in every good work," and we must be ready to do well whatever we undertake. This will lead us safely through all trials and difficulties, for to do good means to live good lives.

To you, dear Principal, and the kind friends we are about to leave, our hearts go out in thanks and blessings that we have had the benefit of your guidance and instruction. We feel sure that in following your precepts and advice we shall enter life's journey in safety, and finally reach a safe haven. With grateful thanks we bid all of you an affectionate good-bye.

Addresses were made by the professors and teachers, and in the evening the members of the Graduating Class were tendered a reception by Principal Currier, at which nearly all of the teachers were present and the Cadet Officers and girls of the advanced classes.

The Baccalaureate Sermon was delivered Sunday afternoon by Rev. Dr. John R. Mackay, on Sunday, June 12th.

GREENSBURG, PA.

Sunday, June 5th, was the birthday anniversary of Mrs. P. L. Gittens, of South Greensburg, she receiving the congratulations of her many friends.

James G. Pool, a prosperous farmer of Hunter, will shortly appear at the Court House here, for the purpose of receiving his share of the estate of his half-brother, deceased.

Felix S. Hogenmiller not long since moved his household effects to Manor, as he finds it convenient to be at his trade, tailoring, near his home. Felix has been a resident of Jeannette ever since the town began, about twenty-one years ago. He is in every respect a first class tailor.

As the JOURNAL comes here weekly, we take much interest in the speculation as to who will be the President of the great National Association of the Deaf, when the meetings will take place at Colorado Springs. We, for one, sincerely hope our genial friend, Mr. Frank R. Gray, will be nominated for National Treasurer, as we know him to be honest and competent. We can only say that if Mr. Gray succeeds in receiving the plum, then we shall accord him a great ovation when he returns from the sessions of the N. A. D.

Recently Mr. Charles Wallis, a nephew of Mr. John Atcheson, slapped ye scribe on the shoulder while the latter was standing in front of a drug establishment here, turning to him, and was in a large measure surprised to see him. We entered the office of the Hotel Rappe where we were comfortably seated, chatting pleasantly together. Mr. Wallis is quite proficient in the use of the single hand alphabet. He informed the writer that Mr. Atcheson's brother and wife left on May 14th, for New York, from whence they sailed for Europe, where they are to spend the summer in travelling and observing. He then left for Indiana, Pa., on business combined with pleasure.

We learned that the deaf people of Altoona, did not hold a select picnic near Fairview Cemetery, on Memorial Day, owing to the chilly and raw weather, as was stated in a recent issue of the JOURNAL.

The great Pennsylvania Railroad Company employs five mutes at Altoona. It is said with gladness that they are steady and are prospering at present. Among those in the service of the company are Mr. Charles A. Chatham, who has held his position for the space of twenty-seven years. He apprised ye local that a great deal of work is being done at the various departments of the Pennsylvania Railroad's establishments throughout the summer.

Carl Bohner, a graduate of the Mt. Airy School, is attending the Altoona High School, and is, we are informed, progressing well in his studies, notwithstanding his deafness. We understand that he will once more take up his studies at the Fall term of the school.

Mr. Henderson, who hails from Chicago, has a lucrative position as electrician in the Altoona Electric Works.

Miss Mary Henderson, formerly a pupil of the Mt. Airy School, of Tyrone, is employed as a dressmaker at the later place.

Mrs. P. J. Gettins and daughter, returned home from South Fork some time ago, where they spent a couple of days with relatives.

Paul Langhans, of Blairsville, was in Youngwood as the guest of his old-time schoolmate, John F. Long, two weeks ago. He is still employed in the Blairsville Cigar Factory, and is doing well. He told the writer that George Seiler, who, for several years boarded at his home, died two years ago from tuberculosis, leaving a fortune for him to the amount of three hundred dollars. Mr. Seiler was by occupation a cigar-maker, and was among the earliest pupils at the Day School in Pittsburgh, while the late Archie Woodside was Principal. The writer had never heard anything regarding Mr. Seiler's death until Mr. Langhans notified him of the fact. He remembers the deceased as a man of strong physique and well proportioned development.

Mr. and Mrs. John Long attended the ordination of Mr. B. R. Allabough at St. Stephen's Church, Wilkensburg, May 29th. Ye correspondent attended a reception in honor of Rev. Mr. Allabough at the Parish House in the evening, and met many people socially. It was indeed an enjoyable occasion.

Sunday morning, May 26th, being warm and delightful, ye scribe availed himself of this opportunity by taking a fast express for Altoona. In peeping at Johnstown, he perceived his friends, George Chatham and John Clarke, at the passenger station, and gleefully shook hands with them. As soon as the train pulled out, they wished the writer a pleasant time, and in reply he said the same to them. When the train stopped at Gallitzin, he was earnestly looking out for the Saunders, but to his disappointment he did not find them. On the way east, he enjoyed a good view of what is known as the "Horse-shoe curve" in the Alleghenies. The scenery along the railroad is picturesque grand beyond description. It is well worth travelling for many miles to see the "Horse-shoe curve." On the writer's arrival at "Mountain City," he was met by his genial friend, Mr. Charles A. Chatham, with open arms. We then took a walk to the Chatham home, arriving there in a few minutes. Ye local was heartily welcomed, by Mrs. Chatham, as she always knows how to entertain visitors. It is no exaggeration to tell how comfortably the Chathams are ensconced in their cosy home, the lawn of which is dotted with flower bushes and shady trees, like a Garden of Eden. Such is loveliness! After partaking of an excellent dinner, we took a trolley ride down to South Altoona, where we spent a pleasant afternoon with Mrs. Mary Robb, at the handsome residence of her brother-in-law, Dr. Duff. The correspondent was somewhat surprised to see how well she looked. True enough, the climate in the mountains agrees with her health. She is making her home with her married sister and appears contented and happy. Bidding her au revoir, we left her home in an electric street car, where we had good luncheon, after which we passed the time talking interestingly until a late hour at night, when we retired to dreamland.

Memorial Day was a dismal and threatening day. We took a stroll through the thoroughfares of Altoona, spending the morning in sight seeing ad libitum. Fairview Cemetery we inspected with interest, is a beautiful place, which stands on a high eminence, commanding a magnificent view of the city and surrounding country. The cemetery was visited by thousands of people. The graves were prettily decorated with flags, flowers, etc. The march of the Grand Army of the Republic, Sons of Veterans, Knights of Pythias, and others, was reviewed with no end of interest. Solemnity reigned supreme.

In the afternoon a trolley ride was made to Lakemont Park, a distance of three miles. The park in the mountainous valley is beautiful in the extreme. Notwithstanding the chilly and cold weather, there were several hundreds of pleasure seekers in that famous resort. The lake is dotted with boats which furnish the amusement for young people. The park can afford much amusement, such as roller coaster, roller skating rink, chutes, dancing pavilion, promenades, moving pictures, and so forth. It is well adapted for picnics and outings. It is understood that the deaf are planning to hold a picnic in this park on the Fourth of July. Among those we observed were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Saylor, and Mr. and Mrs. John McIntire and James Butterhough, David Singerman, and Mr. Hewitt. Then we went back to the city in the evening. Mr. Chatham, like a big-hearted man, took your scribe to two of the different moving picture shows, which delighted us greatly. Afterwards, we returned to the Chatham house in time for supper. Then the writer bade his genial host and amiable hostess a sorrowful, though affectionate farewell, and left Altoona, Monday night, at eleven o'clock, and reached home at one-twenty A. M., tired and sleepy, but exceedingly well pleased with what he visited.

Philip T. Gittens constantly works as a checkman at the Keystone Coal and Coke Company's Works, in spite of the great strike among the coal miners. He says that he needs not be afraid of strikers he meets. Mr. George C. Chatham, of Altoona, had been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Clarke, in Johnstown, from Saturday to Tuesday. A number of the pupils from this section of the country will return to their respective homes, much to the delight of their parents at the expiration of the June term of school at Edgewood.

William Lemman, of the vicinity of Mt. Pleasant, is still enjoying the pleasures of farm life.

George Helman, a semi-mute, had to quit the mercantile business in this city, and took a departure for the sunny South in hopes of regaining his health.

Walter Besworth, who is attending Technical School in Pittsburgh, will soon return to his home in Scottsdale for the summer vacation.

Mr. Joseph W. Atcheson, of Homewood, expects to journey to Colorado Springs, in August, to attend the National Association of the Deaf. That he will have a pleasant and profitable time out west, admits of no doubt.

REX.

J. S. Long for Treasurer.

ED. DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL:—As a member of the National Association of the Deaf, I do hereby second A. R. Spear's nomination of J. S. Long for Treasurer. He deserves re-election and I cannot see why this office interferes with his school position.

With Olof Hanson as president, O. H. Regensburg as secretary, and J. S. Long as Treasurer, the N. A. D. will be a formidable machine and they are known not by words but by their deeds.
